Descriptions for all other courses may be found at https://catalog.upb.pitt.edu/

ADMJ 1407 (3) KILLOLOGY: This course will examine the applied concept of killology: the study of the psychological, physiological, and metaphysical effects of killing a human being (police use of deadly force, military combat, etc.) on the human psyche. This course will involve a significant level of experiential learning, as students will also participate in simulated training scenarios involving the use of deadly force and lifesaving techniques for traumatic injuries. Pre-requisites: completion of FS 0104, ENG 0101, 0102 and MATH 0098 or higher. Permission of instructor to enroll is also required. GE: Behavioral and Global.

BIOL 1447 (1) TOPICS IN BIOLOGY: VERTEBRATE NATURAL HISTORY: This course examines the evolutionary history and defining features of the five major vertebrate groups. Students will learn the biology, ecology, and biodiversity of not only living vertebrates, but extinct groups as well. Emphasis on taxonomy, comparative anatomy, the fossil record, and modern genetic techniques. Pre-requisites: Upper-Level competencies + BIOL 0102.

EM 1102 (4) EMERGENCY MEDICINE TECHNICIAN-Lecture and Lab: This course provides learners with the cognitive knowledge and values to develop as an emergency medical professional at the basic life-support level. This course meets all minimum training requirements as established by the U.S. Department of Transportation in the EMT, National Education Standards. This course provides the learner with the opportunity to develop basic life-support psychomotor skills. Successful completion of this course makes the learner eligible to become certified by the National Registry of EMT's and the Pennsylvania Department of Health. *When searching online for this course note that it is a Pittsburgh course. Permission must be requested as there are limited seats. Contact Enrollment Services upbacct@pitt.edu. Please include your PS ID as part of your request.

FORSCI 0250 (3) SPECIAL TOPICS: RAPISTS, MURDERERS & TERRORISTS: In this course, we will explore serial rapists, murderers, and terrorists across the globe. Details regarding the cases, forensic evidence, and outcomes will be explored. We will examine the cultural aspects of these cases, such as how law enforcement agencies approached the cases, how the evidence was evaluated with and without technology and how those communities responded to the outcomes of the cases.

FORSCI 0251 (1) SPECIAL TOPICS FORENSIC SCIENCE LAB: This is a one credit lab that would need to be taken with the ADMJ 0230 Forensic Science lecture. This course examines forensic techniques commonly used in criminal investigations such as: crime scene reconstruction, hair, fiber, soil, inorganic and organic analysis, spectroscopy, microscopy, toxicology, fingerprints, firearms, and DNA. The description, scientific underpinnings, and limitations of forensic techniques are discussed. The course gives students a background in scientific tools available to investigate crime.

LNSK 0102 (3) PRE-NURSING ENRICHMENT: A course offered to enrich pre-nursing students, offering an introduction to the field of nursing and its various disciplines. The course will expose students to the art and science of nursing prior to student nursing application deadline in the spring. Includes college nursing application preparation including personal statement writing, classroom and clinical nursing observation experiences, and faculty and student mentoring. Presented to students with an interest in the nursing profession.

PEDC 0250 (1) SPECIAL TOPICS: PICKLE BALL: Pickle ball is a paddle sport that combines elements of badminton, tennis, and ping-pong. This class will introduce pickle ball concepts and then apply these concepts to game situations. Class will include a topic, drills to emphasize the importance of the topic, and game play to roll the topic/skills into actual game play.

PSY 0251 (3) TOPICS IN PSYCHOLOGY: Professional Writing for the Social Sciences: Writing is an essential skill in almost any field, but professional writing, particularly in the social science fields, demands distinct stylistic and organizational expertise. This course will focus on scaffolding and strengthening these skills explicitly, where the focus is on the writing process rather than the specific foci of the written work. This class will be taught with a focus on APA formatting, and students from any field are welcome to bring their own interests and intentions to the class. Prerequisite: ENG 0102 or higher.

PSY 1447 (3) TOPICS IN COG-DEV PSYCHOLOGY: MEMORY DISTORTIONS & INACCURACIES: Memory researchers know that our memories are not always accurate. What are the possible reasons for our memories to be inaccurate and unreliable? What are the processes involved in the distortion of our memories? How are false memories created, and for some people believed to be memories of their actual experiences? How are our memories of events influenced by the suggestions from other people? Those are some of the questions that will be answered in this course. Prerequisites: PSY 0101, ENG 0101, ENG 0102, Math competency, and FS 0101 or FS 0104.

WRITNG 0250 and WRITNG 1450 (3) TOPICS IN WRITING: HORROR FICTION: In this course we'll read sample literature from the horror genre, looking at its history but particularly focusing on contemporary work, and discuss and put into practice expectations for writing horror. We'll respond to the readings with both critical and creative approaches, and you'll produce some horror writing of your own.

GE SCIENCE COURSES DESIGNED SPECIFICALLY FOR THE NON-MAJOR

The following courses are science courses that are specifically designed for students who are not majoring in a scientific field.

GE: LIFE SCIENCE COURSES:

BIOL 0091 (3) CONCEPTS OF BIOLOGY: Designed for the non-major. A survey of biological concepts providing students with a good understanding of how biology relates to everyday life.

BIOL 0118 (3) ECOLOGY AND ENVIRONMENTAL BIOLOGY: Designed for the non-major. Basic principles of ecology are introduced along with a discussion of the complexity of environmental problems and their solutions. Three hours of lecture per week.

GE: PHYSICAL SCIENCE COURSES:

CHEM 0089 (3) CONCEPTS OF CHEMISTRY: This course is designed for non-majors or students intending to take CHEM 0101 and CHEM 0102 who require additional preparation. The course emphasizes stoichiometry (chemical calculations), chemical equations, gas laws, elementary atomic structure, molecular structure, and periodic properties of elements.

CHEM 0187 (3) DRUGS AND SOCIETY LECTURE: The course intended for non-science majors provides facts about drug sources, history, action in the body, side-effects, interactions; tolerance, abuse potential, dependency; drug delivery systems and alternatives will be covered. All major classes of drugs will be covered.

CHEM 0188 (1) DRUGS AND SOCIETY LAB: May be taken concurrently with CHEM 0187. Students will be introduced to instrumentation used by medical chemistry and forensic scientists and will be instructed in the synthesis of drugs (e.g., aspirin). A field trip to the New York state crime lab (Olean, NY) will be scheduled.

ES 0110 (3) INTRO TO ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE: This course is an interdisciplinary study which presents a general overview of how nature works and how earth and life systems, including society, are interconnected. It examines how the environment is used and abused by humans, and what individuals can do to protect and improve it for future generations, and for other living things.

Academic Internships at Pitt-Bradford

Students seeking information regarding internship opportunities and guidance on the process may contact Angela Wolfe, Interim Career Educator awolfe@pitt.edu An academic internship is a carefully planned and monitored work experience that meets specific learning goals related to an academic field of study. There should be a relationship between the practical experience gained in an internship and the academic work done in the classroom.

Internships allow students to acquire hands-on, practical experience and develop key competencies and critical skills in their chosen field of study.

Undergraduate students at Pitt-Bradford can earn between one and six credits for internships. No more than 6 credits of internship may be taken at any one time. A minimum of 45 on-site hours must be completed per credit hour earned.

Some students elect to participate in an internship experience and not receive academic credit.

Approval of an academic internship application is contingent upon satisfaction of the following requirements:

Junior standing

Good academic standing and meeting the requirements of the major

Completion of the Internship Proposal (Internship Proposal Form)

Approval of the faculty intern supervisor, the student's academic advisor, the division chair and the vice president and dean of academic affairs.

Undergraduate RESEARCH Opportunities!

All students in their sophomore year or beyond are encouraged to consider doing directed research in their major. Such courses prove valuable for pursuing special research interests, preparing for the job market and enhancing one's competitiveness for graduate school.

Funding is available to help underwrite the costs associated with undergraduate research, including conference travel.

A Summer Undergraduate Research Assistant program is also available, which includes on-campus housing and a stipend.

For more information, contact Dr. Warren Fass, Director of Undergraduate Research, at 362-7577 (fass@pitt.edu); the Office of Academic Affairs; or any member of the faculty.

Students having more than two exams on one day (excluding evening classes) may petition their instructors for assistance in rescheduling one exam at a time mutually agreeable to student and instructor. If it is not possible to reach an agreement with one of the instructors, students should contact the appropriate division chair.
