And become part of a welcoming, world-spanning community of professors, students, parents, and alumni invested in your future.

Nuwangi Dias, a biology major from Kanata, Ontario, Canada, originally applied to the University of Pittsburgh and had plans to transfer to Pitt after she spent two years on the Pitt-Bradford campus. However, she never left.

“I stayed because I met some amazing people and got involved in organizations on campus that made me feel like this was the place for me. I also feel that my professors really care and are there for me when I need them.”

An “Aha” Moment

At Pitt-Bradford, we’re all about the “aha!” That moment when ideas and information suddenly click, giving you a whole new way of looking at the world and your place in it!

The Power of Pitt

With a diploma that reads “The University of Pittsburgh,” you know your education has a top pedigree. But a world-class degree is only the beginning with the many benefits you will have at your beck and call like access to 4 million volumes in our library system, study-abroad destinations, research opportunities and many other perks.

An Extra Hand

Pitt-Bradford’s Academic Coaching & Tutoring Center can help you with study skills, put you to work as a mentor or a tutor, and give you assistance and advice throughout your college experience. Our Verizon adaptive tech lab can help students with learning or physical disabilities and, if you are the first to go to college in your family, you might be eligible for our TRiO program, offering academic advising, study assistance and career and financial counseling.

Real-Life Internships

At Pitt-Bradford, you’re in the real world, right now. You can apply your classroom learning to real life through internship experiences in the area and beyond. Pitt-Bradford students have interned with many organizations, and we feel that connecting learning with reality is a key part of a Pitt-Bradford education. We like to think of the world as our learning laboratory.

Apartment-Style Living and More

Every one of Pitt-Bradford’s 14 residence halls is fully furnished and offers spacious apartment-style living, plus cable and Internet (and there’s wireless networking across campus, too). The housing on our campus has many advantages over “traditional” dorm styles. It offers you the comforts of contemporary apartment living, the social support of a community of your fellow students, and the affordability, security and convenience of being right on campus. We have a fresh-food-only dining room - one of the few in the entire country!

Community:

“The classes are more personalized. Your professors will remember who you are the second day of class, and they’re very willing to work with you one on one, which is nearly impossible anywhere else. The atmosphere is much more personal.”

Kaizhi Jason Chen

A double major in public relations and psychology from Pittsburgh, PA who originally applied to Pitt but has stayed at Pitt-Bradford.
A Safe Community

The welcoming community of Bradford, Pennsylvania (pop. 11,000), sets the tone for our friendly campus. To ensure a safe community, Pitt-Bradford’s campus police patrol the well-lit campus 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. We have extensive security measures that provide security for all campus buildings including residence halls.

Countless Activities

Whether it’s organized activities or a good grilling and game of Frisbee golf on the library lawn, there’s always something happening! Our surroundings call for adventure — downhill skiing, snowboarding, hiking, fishing and hunting, as well as many intramural sporting activities and more than 50+ clubs and organizations. Not far from campus there is more to explore like Cedar Point Amusement Park in nearby Ohio, or Presque Isle State Park in Erie, PA.
