LT. GOV. SCARNATI EMPHASIZES VALUE OF HARD WORK IN ADDRESS TO GRADUATES

Lt. Gov. Joe Scarnati urged graduates of Pitt-Bradford on Sunday to “always carry yourself as if someone’s watching.”

He cited an example from his own life in his address to the 286 graduates, Pitt-Bradford’s largest class ever, during commencement ceremonies held in the KOA Arena of the Sport and Fitness Center.

DEGREE FULFILLMENT OF LONGTIME WISH

Jack Spring has served in the military, built houses, run a medical supply warehouse, worked in a log yard and driven a school bus. He’s been a salesman, handyman and purchasing agent. On Sunday, he became a college graduate. For a full story on Spring and fellow graduate Tim Riley, click here.
