PITT PROVOST MAHER RECEIVES PRESIDENTIAL MEDAL OF DISTINCTION

University of Pittsburgh Provost and Senior Vice Chancellor Dr. James V. Maher, whose significant support and advocacy of Pitt-Bradford resulted in unprecedented growth, received the Presidential Medal of Distinction at a tribute reception and dinner on Monday evening.

The presidential medal is Pitt-Bradford’s highest honor.

Late last year, Maher announced that he would step down as the senior academic officer of the university. More details.
