- New Course Proposal: HIST 14XX Capstone Research Methods

As two research methods course proposals were put forward, a lengthy discussion was held as to the relevance of having a discipline specific research methods course rather than a general research methods course that may be applied to several majors.

It was noted that the rationale, course description, and syllabi presented are identical for the two [PS 14XX and HIST 14XX] confounding the argument for two separate methods courses.

Motion to approve ___ or table ___X___ made by G. Tessmer; seconded by K. Leck

Approved by all

Several alternatives were discussed for the proposal on the table. Dean Hardin will follow up with Division Chairs prior to reconsideration of the proposal(s).

As a reminder to the committee, James Baldwin provided that the prerequisite of “permission of instructor” will limit the self-enrollment process. All courses that require “permission of instructor” must be processed through enrollment services.

See comments noted above for the HIST 14XX proposal.
