Happy Holidays

As 2008 comes to an end, we’re celebrating in big ways!

From decorating a Pitt Christmas tree to setting New Year’s resolutions for themselves, Pitt-Bradford alumni know how to do it up! Check out pictures of an alma mater tree and find out what some of our faculty/staff alumni are resolving to do in 2009.

Pitt-Bradford Presents...

Atlanta-based an a cappella trio D’Vine, who shares the birthplace of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., will honor his life, legacy and vision through song during a performance at Bromeley Family Theater on Jan. 24.

Paula McGuire Saunders, Pamela McGuire Dees and Sheryl Denise Pollard have performed all over the country, including performances at the White House and with the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra.

For tickets to all Pitt-Bradford Presents events call the Bromeley Family Theater Box Office at (814) 362-5113.

Upcoming Events

Jan. 31 - Backpack to Briefcase

Save the Date!

Feb. 28 - Panther Athletic Club Auction

‘Tis the Season for Giving Back

Your year-end gift to the Annual Fund helps Pitt-Bradford students go beyond. Learn how your generosity makes a difference to Pitt-Bradford student, Sherard Thorne and consider making your year-end gift online at www.upb.pitt.edu/giving.aspx. Every gift matters, regardless of size!

Gifts postmarked or received on or before December 31 are eligible for a 2008 tax deduction.

Check out pictures from Alumni Weekend 2008

Alumni In Action!

Name: Sarah Champlin (Heitzinger) Graham
Class of: 2001
Degree: B.S., Economics
Current Residence: Rockville, MD
Favorite memory: Bartending at the Option for quarter drafts

Sarah has worked for nonprofits, created her own consulting firm and merged with a major CPA firm, leading her to public acclaim. Find out more about this "Mover & Shaker"…

As 2008 comes to an end, we’re celebrating in big ways!

From decorating a Pitt Christmas tree to setting New Year’s resolutions for themselves, Pitt-Bradford alumni know how to do it up! Check out pictures of an alma mater tree and find out what some of our faculty/staff alumni are resolving to do in 2009.

Pitt-Bradford Presents...

Atlanta-based a cappella trio D’Vine, who shares the birthplace of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., will honor his life, legacy and vision through song during a performance at Bromeley Family Theater on Jan. 24.

Paula McGuire Saunders, Pamela McGuire Dees and Sheryl Denise Pollard have performed all over the country, including performances at the White House and with the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra.

For tickets to all Pitt-Bradford Presents events call the Bromeley Family Theater Box Office at (814) 362-5113.

Upcoming Events

Jan. 31 - Backpack to Briefcase

Save the Date!

Feb. 28 - Panther Athletic Club Auction

‘Tis the Season for Giving Back

Your year-end gift to the Annual Fund helps Pitt-Bradford students go beyond. Learn how your generosity makes a difference to Pitt-Bradford student, Sherard Thorne and consider making your year-end gift online at www.upb.pitt.edu/giving.aspx. Every gift matters, regardless of size!

Gifts postmarked or received on or before December 31 are eligible for a 2008 tax deduction.

Check out pictures from Alumni Weekend 2008

Alumni In Action!

Name: Sarah Champlin (Heitzinger) Graham
Class of: 2001
Degree: B.S., Economics
Current Residence: Rockville, MD
Favorite memory: Bartending at the Option for quarter drafts

Sarah has worked for nonprofits, created her own consulting firm and merged with a major CPA firm, leading her to public acclaim. Find out more about this “Mover & Shaker”…

As 2008 comes to an end, we’re celebrating in big ways!

From decorating a Pitt Christmas tree to setting New Year’s resolutions for themselves, Pitt-Bradford alumni know how to do it up! Check out pictures of an alma mater tree and find out what some of our faculty/staff alumni are resolving to do in 2009.

Pitt-Bradford Presents...

Atlanta-based a cappella trio D’Vine, who shares the birthplace of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., will honor his life, legacy and vision through song during a performance at Bromeley Family Theater on Jan. 24.

Paula McGuire Saunders, Pamela McGuire Dees and Sheryl Denise Pollard have performed all over the country, including performances at the White House and with the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra.

For tickets to all Pitt-Bradford Presents events call the Bromeley Family Theater Box Office at (814) 362-5113.