Be Counted!

Falling leaves, cool breezes, a hint of snow in the air, and, of course – ringing telephones? You guessed it alumni; if you didn’t hear from your friendly Pitt-Bradford Phonathon caller this fall, perhaps you received an e-mail for the 2009 Fall Alumni Phonathon. Either way, that time of year has come and gone, just like summer. But your contribution is never too late.

This year’s fall campaign raised more than $13,310 in gifts and pledges from 225 alumni donors. By donating to Pitt-Bradford, alumni give current students the opportunity for scholarships, state-of-the-art technology, new academic programs, library resources, and improvements to campus facilities.

But, there are those few who may have been too busy raking leaves or carving pumpkins. If so, you can still be counted. Pitt-Bradford offers two easy ways to give. You can either go online to the secure giving Web page at: www.upb.pitt.edu/giving.aspx or you can send in your contribution with the pledge form and business reply envelope that you will be receiving in the mail in the next few weeks.
